

We are very excited to announce that booking for the Boston Hanse Big Dig is now open!

Interested?

I want to dig!

1. Check your diary against the available dates (see below)
2. Give us a ring or send an email to book your preferred dates
3. Receive confirmation and an information pack via email

I want to book my school / group to dig!

1. Identify how many people will be getting involved (including parents / teachers / carers)
2. Check your diary against the available dates (see below)
3. Give us a ring or send an email to book your preferred dates, including the number of people digging. If this is more than 8, we will have a conversation with you about additional activities and rotating people around the digging tasks.
4. Receive confirmation and an information pack via email, including a sample risk assessment

I / my group want to get involved, but don't know if I / we are physically able

Give us a call and ask for our community archaeologist, Lydia Hendry. We will have a chat about what you feel comfortable doing and do our best to provide an experience that you and/or your group are happy doing – such as accommodating limited movement (e.g. finds washing), to increased supervision, to shorter working times.

FAQ's

Can children get involved?

Children (under 18) are welcome to join in, but must be supervised by an adult at all times

What do I need to bring?

Sensible footwear and clothes is a good start. We will provide all of the tools that you need. But don't worry, after signing up you will be sent an information pack to guide you throughout your archaeology day.

How much does it cost?

This experience is completely free. It is funded by the Heritage Lottery Fund and organised by the Boston Hanse Group.

What if I have never done archaeology before?

Don't worry, we will guide you through everything you need to know and do. You will be given as much support as you feel you need.

What will happen to the finds?

The finds will belong to the landowner – Boston Borough Council. It will be up to them to decide what will happen to them in the long term. However, throughout the dig the best finds will be put on display at the Guildhall museum for everyone to see.

Can I book onto more than one session?

Absolutely, you can book on to as many sessions as you would like.
